The American foreign Policy and the Palestinian-Israeli conflict, Under the Administration of President Bill Clinton: Negotiations and the Financial Support

Study Summary

This study tackles the American role towards the Palestinian-Israeli conflict, spotting thereby light onto the American foreign Policy during the reign of President Bill Clinton; i.e. between 1993 and 2001. However, this subject is truly considered one of the most crucial issues dealt with by the US Foreign Policy towards what may have international interventions. Also, the study will identify the path of U.S. role in the Palestinian-Israeli negotiations on the one hand, and on the other hand the financial and material support for the parties to the dispute or to one party, if any. Hence, the study will explain the alien issue which, at first glance, considers the Clinton term as one of the most important periods of reconciliation, which converged with the Palestinians in many of the important issues but with no support extended to the Palestinian Authority directly with funds; on contrary to the term of President George W. Bush, which is the period that is considered the period of stalemate and disagreement in some important issues, but there has been certain material and financial support directly addressed to the treasury of the Palestinian Authority.

The methodology of the study is an analytical and historical one, because of the need for both.

Since the term of President Bill Clinton has in fact been one of the most important periods in the history of Israeli-Palestinian conflict, there has been a lot of the American concern, especially that the period has witnessed the signing of the Convention on the Oslo Declaration of Principles under the auspices of President Bill Clinton, with all that has followed of numerous conferences and rounds of negotiations where the United States has the most prominent role in it, whereas the study has discussed the stages of the Israeli-Palestinian peace process from the perspective of the American attendance with a brief history of U.S. policy toward the Palestinians and the Israelis in order to start from a broad base and a common understanding of the historical relatedness; it also has given notion to the meaning of the US Foreign Policy from several aspects, surveillance of the very primitive steps of the President Bill Clinton since the inception of his reign, his role and his further steps towards supporting the negotiations.

And then the study has shed light on the US material support to the Palestinians and the Israelis in that period and whether the U.S. financial support to the Palestinians has been in harmony with the prevailing policies in that period and reason beyond the same. The study has also focused on the political dimensions of the Camp David 2000 Conference and the Report regarding its importance to the U.S. towards the conflict parties, whereas there has been a major U.S. effort at the highest level. Therefore, the results of the American foreign policy have become apparent towards the two parties of the conflict and that the latter stance or the position of President Bill Clinton which in turn has expressed his failure to reach to a comprehensive agreement between the Palestinians and the Israelis, despite the fact that Clinton has taken the initiative within his vision to resolve the thorny issues; however, the Camp David has been one of the most important conferences which discussed the whole thorny issues between the Palestinians and the Israelis. But, however, the two parties of the conflict have not accepted the perspective of President Bill Clinton nor his proposals and instead they have expressed reservation towards some of the items and refused some others.

Thus, the term of President Bill Clinton has ended up with total failure to reach a solution to the Palestinian-Israeli conflict, and hence such period has been known as (the reign of President Bill Clinton) as one of the best periods of providing support to the Palestinians and the convergence in many directions and points, but, however, despite so, Clinton Administration has not supported the Palestinian Authority financially and directly but the support has been through private institutions, on contrary to and unlike the reign of President George W. Bush that followed the Clinton's, whereas the Bush Jr. administration has been in contradiction and in conflict with the Palestinians in some issues, but the Bush Jr. administration's supported the treasury of the Palestinian Authority with funds directly, despite the differences.

The most important implication to the Palestinian side: is not to ignore the importance of the American interference and knowing how to deal with it in addition to making use of American Aids.

Dear Ms Vivien G Abdullah,

My name is Attallah Mattawa (Palestinian Authority ID No ¹(**))

I am a postgraduate student at AL-QUDS University, Institute of Area Studies, American Studies Track, currently working on my MA Dissertation entitled "U.S. Foreign Policy and the Israel-Palestinian Conflict under the Administration of President Bill Clinton: Negotiations and Finance", focusing on the relationship (if any) between the reported fluctuations in the Israel-PLO negotiations process during the two-terms of President Clinton's tenure in office and increases (or otherwise) in US economic support (in finance and/or in kind) to either one or both of the two negotiating parties. My academic Supervisor is Professor Uri Davis.

I would be grateful if you were able to assist me in locating any information and/or schedules relevant to the value of financial support offered by the US to any one or to both negotiating parties in the period above, as well as advise me further how and where to go to get additional relevant data.

Many thanks

Wishing you a good day

USAID | WEST BANK/GAZA

FROM THE AMERICAN PEOPLE

July 14, 2010

Atallah Muttawa
Hizma
Palestinian Authority

Email: atone564@hotmail.com

Dear Mr. Muttawa:

Thank you for your letter of May 5, 2010 requesting information on the value of USAID assistance to the West Bank and Gaza. The USAID Mission here in Tel Aviv administers economic assistance to the Palestinian Territories, but not to Israel.

I understand that you are researching assistance levels over time, particularly during the administration of President William Clinton.

Enclosed please find a table showing assistance levels administered by USAID/West Bank and Gaza since the USAID Mission was established here in 1994, showing funding through Fiscal Year 2009. Our Fiscal Year runs from October 1 through September 30 of the next calendar year, so that, for example, Fiscal Year 2009 covers funds obligated between October 1, 2008, through September 30, 2009. This may make it more complex to compare with other donor funds which may follow a calendar year. Our Fiscal Year 2010 does not end until September 30, 2010, but we anticipate the level of obligations will be approximately $400 million.

You will see that assistance levels have fluctuated significantly over the years, depending on the levels provided by the U.S. Congress. The increase in Fiscal Year 2009 reflects a supplementary (extra) appropriation by Congress to address humanitarian needs following the military events in Gaza during December 2008-January 2009. You may also find more detail about the activities which are funded through this program on the website USAID.GOV/WBG, in both English and Arabic.

Good luck to you in your continuing studies.

Sincerely,

Kimberlee Bell
