

The phenomenon of deletion in Sahih Muslim Grammatical and Semantic study

Dr. Ahmad Dawood Demis

Suhaib Ismael Yossuf Awwad

The researcher used (Sahih Muslim) as a field to study the phenomenon of deletion grammatically and semantically.

This study consists of preamble and five chapters. In the preamble, the writer talked about Imam Muslim, his life and scientific accomplishments. The first chapter, talked about the phenomenon of deletion by the grammarians. The second chapter, talked about deleting letters in Sahih Muslim and its semantics. The third chapter, talked about deleting subject and predicate. The fourth chapter highlighted the deletion of the complement of the sentence in Sahih Muslim and its semantics. The fifth chapter included deleting the answers in Sahih Muslim and its semantics.

The researcher aimed to collect all of the Hadiths that faced deletion and stating it. The researcher adopted descriptive, analytical, and statistical approach. To apply this approach, he extracted the Hadiths of prophet Mohammed (PBUH) from Sahih Muslim, and then showed what was applied to the Hadiths in regards to the matter of deletion, justifying the significance of the role that the subject of deletion occupied in exploring the meanings of Hadiths. So it reflects the depth of semantics of the

Hadiths and the accuracy of its expressions
