Abstract:

This study dealt with the faith education in Surat Al-Anfal and the means of benefiting from it in dealing with the problems faced by the Palestinian society, where the importance of the Quran and Prophetic Education in the reform of the individual and society, the shepherd and the parish and the similarity between the reality of the Palestinian people in Palestine today and the reality of Muslims in Medina Second year of migration.

This study is based on the deductive approach in tracking the values of faith education in the Holy Quran and the method of content analysis to analyze the content of the verses, and to devise the values of faith.

The researcher used the sources and references that were written about the sura. Among the sources that mentioned the study is "Daraj al-Durr in the interpretation of the great Qur'aan" by Abd al-Qaher al-Jarjani, One of the most widely cited references is the book by researcher Mohamed El Masri, entitled "From the guidance of Surat Anfal".

The study came out with a number of results, the most important of which was: The main and decisive reason for the victory was thanks to the education of the Companions of the Faithful, Jihadi; it combines power, firmness, total ingenuity, and a sober, wise manner. The purpose of this education was to charge all souls with a faithful charge, thanks to the upbringing of Mustafa peace is upon him to the honorable Companions for a period of thirteen years, in Mecca, before emigrating to Madinah and before the Battle of Badr.

The study also recommended a number of recommendations, including: To decision-makers in the Palestinian society to disseminate the Qoranic educational method and values of faith in order to be the method used in the daily life of the Palestinian society.
