

Incest crime

" A comparative study "

Prepared by: Ihab Majed Elias Odeh

Supervisor: Dr. Abedalla Najajreh

Abstract

This study aims to identify and clarify the legal aspect of the incest crime and the social security of their independence among them in this particular crime.

Given the importance of the study of all aspects of this crime, the researcher goes deeply into the details of the crime through extra potation, comparison and analysis of law, customs and religious among them.

Therefore, we have presented in the introductory chapter to the old historical aspect of this crime through reference to ancient civilizations and then we went to the Position heavily religious of this crime and the importance of this historical return of the incest crime because it is a religious crime before it is a murder.

In the same chapter we have studied some crimes like the subject of our study and these crimes is the crime of adultery and rape .

Moreover, the first section of the study focuses on the legal aspect of the incest crime and through the same. After that giving further from that through the legal provision of the incest crime which we recommend the researcher go on with.

So, in this section the legislation has been studied in Palestine from the point of view of provision which criminalize incest through identify the legal provision and clarify the meaning that the researcher wants from this provision after that we criticized the provision either from the positive or negative aspect.

Then the punishment was defined from the incest crime either for the positive law and Islamic doctrine. After that we discussed the criminal prosecution and raise compliment in the insistence crime then the material element was defined in incest crimes through extrapolated the decision of the counts and positive rules and analyze them.

We ended the discussion of the mental element of the incest crime which requires information and will to hold this responsibility.

In the second section from this study we social psychological aspect for this crime through going back for the possible social reasons which causes these crimes after that we discuss the marks of crime and the way we can face it.

In this section the effects of the incest crime discussed, and it was differentiated between the internal reason which are related to the one and the family and the general causes which are related to the whole society.

We added the effects of the crime either it was social effects or health effects then we defined the existence of this crime and the way it happens in the Arab world.

We ended this section by identifying the ways of prevention and solutions of this incest crime .