

Summary

Recent legislation has been introduced in the field of consumer protection , the consumer is the weak party in the contractual process, And urged that the general rules in the civil law did not include and expand to impose the desired protection has been speeded up modern legislation to develop laws to protect the consumer in the stages of the contract of different, both at the pre-conclusion of the contract and during the conclusion of the contract and the post-conclusion of the contract.

The historical development of consumer protection, the definition of consumers and suppliers, as well as the legal importance of providing legal protection to the consumer and its impact on society , Which led me to study the subject of consumer protection and statement of rights and obligations of the supplier or producer or merchant and what are the legal dimensions in case of breach of contract in addition to consumer protection means.

Consumer protection was examined at the pre-contract stage, which showed how to protect the consumer at the stage of differentiation and the legal effect of cutting off the negotiations In addition to the legal protection of the consumer of commercial advertising, it is of absolute importance as commercial advertising significantly affects the consumer audience in the acquisition of goods , As well as the right of the consumer in the media and insight through the identification of the personality of the supplier and description of the service or product in addition to the statement of characteristics of the commodity.

The second chapter deals with consumer protection during the contract by clarifying the legal protection of the consumer and the guarantees guaranteed by law to him Such as expanding the contracts of compliance to include many contracts in the event of lost negotiations between the parties to the contract, if during the contract of negotiation, the consumer will be in a contract of compliance , In the case of negotiations and the possibility of modifying the conditions, it is not a contract of acquiescence.

In addition, the criminal protection of the consumer has been studied. The various legislations have been criminalized by the crimes against the consumer by imposing penal sanctions on the supplier, producer or supplier, In addition, the criminal protection of the consumer has been studied. The various legislations have been criminalized by the crimes against the consumer by imposing penal sanctions on the supplier, producer or supplier, In addition, modern legislation has banned and criminalized the subject of contracting with a fictional person and arranged for different penalties depending on the situation in which the legislator expands the criminalization of a false or misleading commercial declaration in addition to criminalizing fraud.

In the last chapter, consumer protection was studied in the post-contract period, since modern legislation did not overlook the imposition of consumer protection by the media and the right to change, in addition to the right to resort to consumer protection associations.

The study concluded with a conclusion, which included the results and recommendations.